Lots of fun was had!

Our Ardency Kennedy Place Open Day was a great success! There was coffees, pastries, wine & cheese, fairy floss and popcorn to be enjoyed whilst strolling the precinct viewing and engaging in the entertaining activities we had planned for the day.

The Stiletto Sisters from Melbourne Recital Centre's Local Heroes Series were an absolute hit, playing some old favourites, along with some of their own beautiful music.

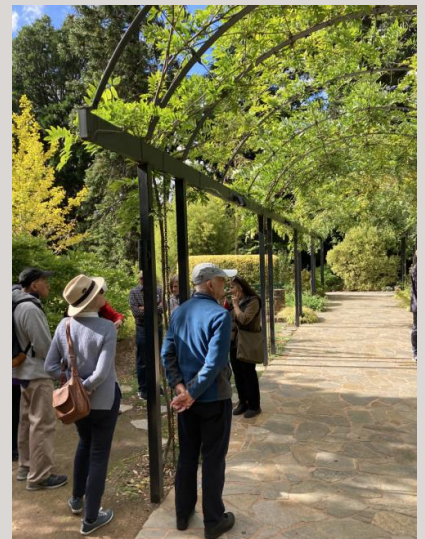

Burnley Historical Gardens

Sales Manager Tracey Prowse and the Friends of the Burnley Gardens hosted a tour of the historic Burnley Gardens.

The Burnley Gardens in Richmond date back to 1861 when the Horticulture Society of Victoria established experimental gardens with the aim to introduce new plants to the colonies and to promote botanical and horticultural science.

Following an insightful guided tour guests returned to the Kennedy Place display suite for a delightful morning tea.

Meet the Team

SAMANTHA STOCKLEY PROPERTY DEVELOPMENT GRADUATE

Having joined the Ardency Kennedy Place team in February, Sam is loving being a key contributor to the development of Ardency Kennedy Place.

Q: What is your favourite thing about being part of the Development team?

A: I really enjoy working with a wide range of people across a variety of disciplines, such as our builder, consultants, marketing team, sales team, and of course our lovely customers! Seeing the construction works on site and the progress being made is very satisfying.

Rotary Club of Richmond

On the 12th April, our very own Stewart Gibson presented to the Rotary Club of Richmond at the recently renovated Amora Hotel Riverwalk on Bridge Road. Rotary is always keen to induct enthusiastic people of good character, with a diverse range of businesses and professionals - you will form new friendships with like-minded men and women.
